If you're looking for a standard way of developing your own add-on applications, you should consider C++, using Visual Studio.NET. C++, Visual LISP, and Visual Basic are better suited for scripting automation. ## Text and Layout Utilities For displaying text and other items in an AutoCAD drawing, consider using the Text and Layout utilities. These utilities work in conjunction with the AutoCAD Text Styles and AutoLISP. The Text and Layout utilities can be used on any feature to display text or any other object. 5b5f913d15
