Using WinSent Serial Key, you can securely communicate with your workgroup in an environment where there is no Internet connection. The program offers features to search for all your contacts in your LAN, thus giving you the chance to address messages to a specific recipient. WinSent is a fast application that offers secure and reliable instant messaging, especially on closed LAN environments. WinSent Rating: 4.4 stars out of 5 (496 ) Source: Plain and simple - multi-directional chat capability. Incoming, outgoing, private, open and invisible mode. Once you've connected to your contacts, you can even have each contact send you private messages. You can set the time the message is automatically deleted. Even let the message expire after a specified amount of time. All contact will automatically be added to your buddy list. You can leave multiple messages unanswered. Automatically show new messages as they arrive in your chat window. Change the fonts, colors and more. Send messages without typing any of the body text. Includes a Chat History feature which lets you see every message you've received and sent. No more of the having to retype all the same text in order to send it again. Use our server program to create your own private chat networks. You can also make your chats public to join chatrooms. Using multiple users and invites friends to the system is a breeze. Save time by having all your contacts on your server contact list and automatically open your contacts on chat. Also, you can have the contacts send you messages. This also means you can also send them messages back. Chat often, make friends and establish relationships in the people section. Chat is a simple way to stay connected with others. "Instant Messaging" The Official way to communicate on Internet. Starting on 16 June 2009, WinConnect.net has released its new and free product - WinConnectChat. WinConnectChat is a universal, instant messenger that enables users to connect to many different networks simultaneously. In the past, when one has been on the Internet, and uses a specific instant messenger to communicate with someone, the conversation has to be on the same computer, so the IP address can be used as the contact identifier. Now, because the program uses the dynamic IP address, the connection is safe and secure. WinConnectChat is a perfect

It is a freeware which enables you to macro any key of your keyboard with another key. This is often necessary to create shortcuts, save repeated keys. It also lets you record your mouse cursor in a specific window. KeyMacro is simple and easy to use. It is necessary to register to activate the tool. After that, the program will start in Windows system tray. It is compatible with all the Windows versions (Windows 95, Windows 98, Windows NT, Windows 2000, Windows XP, Windows Vista) WinMacro is freeware, it is not owned by any company, therefore, it does not have any known security issues. WinMacro is rated 5 out of 5 because it's simple and easy to use. My Review Your Review

Beautiful Tool! - Excellent Product - 5 stars Posted by: Norman R. on 4th Jun 2012 I've been using this software for a few years now, and it's a beautiful application. The best part is that it's free, and works with ANY keyboard, not just the ones that are specifically designed to work with KeyMacro. The features are extensive, and it's been featured in the Magazine. I highly recommend this product. I need this application -

Excellent Product - 5 stars Posted by: Joecll on 3rd Apr 2012 I downloaded this the first time around, and the author of the software left without finishing the application. He did not leave a reason, so I was left without the ability to use the application. This software is very easy to use, and can be configured to use ANY keyboard. The program is very pretty and well thought out. My boss and I use this program in the office on a daily basis, so it's something we rely on. I would definitely recommend this application, and highly recommend the developer to finish his product. Amazing Product! - Excellent Product - 5 stars Posted by: SWAN on 1st Apr 2012 I love this program, not only because of the ease of use and the great number of useful features, but also because it automatically launches any program that I want to start from another computer. The most wonderful thing is that you can also stop using the program and all that is saved will be re-installed at the next launch. Must Have - Excellent Product - 5 stars conversation, even when on different networks. I use it every day when I work with others in different areas. Submitted by: Anonymous Submitted on:

2007-05-24 WinSent's most important feature is the ability to be "local", meaning that it works in a closed network without having to use the Internet. At work we all communicate with each other using WinSent, and it works perfectly. It's even great at school because we share notes and work on projects together. Submitted by:

allows you to send a message or file even when offline. It's a very secure program and it can be used by any user who has it. If you're in a tight spot you can be really useful. Submitted by: Anonymous Submitted on: 2007-05-23 WinSent is the best solution when you're working with others. You can be in different networks, even work with others in a closed system, and it works perfectly. The best feature is that you don't need to use the Internet. WinSent is a good solution to have access to other networks

What's New In WinSent?

In this series of videos we'll be covering the implementation of a local version of NoSQL database, Redis, in PHP. We'll be using the following PHP extensions: Redis Redis includes functions for connection to the Redis server. The connection is achieved by a number of functions including the create, close, connect, etc. The open function opens a connection to Redis server and, in our case, returns a PHP object which represents the connection to the Redis server. The close function closes a connection opened using the open function and releases the memory occupied by the connection object. We'll see later how these functions are used in the implementation of our script. Redis also includes several other functions related to the connection. These functions include the ping, last, len and brpop functions, among others. The ping function returns the number of items in the Redis server. The last function returns the last value saved in the Redis server. The len function returns the number of items saved in the Redis server. The `brpop` function selects and returns the value contained in Redis. Let's have a look at our script, the script is going to check if there is any item in the Redis database and if there are any, it's going to return the value. We'll start by creating a new file called `redisscript.php` and add the following code: The first function is the function that will be used to open the connection to the Redis server and check the data stored in the server. The `ping` function is simple and returns the number of items saved in the Redis server. We can use this function to check if we have a problem opening a connection with the Redis server. If it returns 0, we know we have a problem, and we can choose to retry or to abort the connection. The last function returns the last value stored in the Redis server. The code above shows the logic we're going to use to check if there are any items in Redis server and, if there is, it will return the last value stored in the server. If there are no items in Redis, the script will return '0' as value. Then, we are going to have a look at the other functions. The ping function will return the number of items saved in the Redis server. The last function is very simple, we are going to return the last value stored in the Redis server. Here you can find the full code: Redis is not the only server that we can use as a NoSQL database for PHP. The next series of tutorials will be about the implementation of a local MongoDB server in PHP. The purpose of this tutorial is to explain how
