Quality of games improved, improves the quality of life of the player, such as a member of the National Football League, irrespective of the size of the team (e.g., the club), the number of championships, and awards won by the player. Quality of life of the team The QOL of the team will definitely increase, if the team is allowed to review the game tape, of the opponent (comparative analysis) or the team's coach (needs analysis) in the office, after the game Increase the ability to transfer, without any losses, and change the quality of a player for a better result Team coaching The abilities of sports agents, and other coaches/trainers, will increase for the benefit of the team The need to protect players and teams from outside influences, such as injury, racial prejudice, or sexual harassment/assault Protect the coaches, from top to bottom, and pay them fairly to coach their teams. Protect players from unfair dismissal or premature termination, such as an early pregnancy, drug use, or immaturity. Protect the player from reckless driving, workplace accidents, and gun-related violence Protect the player, his family, and friends from emotional, psychological, medical, or addiction related illnesses, or the loss of a loved one. Transparency The owners, and their legal counsel, will know whether the game is fixed, and will have all facts. The player will have all information and facts, to either admit or deny any wrongdoing before a tribunal. The game will be played honestly, and only the results will be honored. The only things that will be rewarded in the court of law, will be the truthfulness of the evidence, and not the outcome of the game. The decision is in the hands of the Judge, and not those of the Tribunal. The game is public, and open to all to witness and share the information. The three things in particular, Transparently, everyone (including the players, coach, lawyers, owners) will know Honestly, the outcome of the game will be honored, the results of the game will be with a judge of the court of law Fairly, the outcome of the game will be honored, the results of the game will be with a judge of the court of law. Highlighting the most important points, The

Q: Is there a concise way of checking the size of all the items in a list? I am trying to check the size of all the items in a list. Here is my attempt:
numrows = len(my_list) for num in range(1,numrows): print my_list[num-1] How can I do this more succinctly? A: Try: for num in list(my_list):
print num A: Use list comprehension: print [item for item in my_list] To return a list of the items from the list, you need to use the iteration function, since they generate a list: print [item for item in my_list] # prints: # [1, 2, 3, 4, 5] .li(java.lang.Class.class, false) .li(java.lang.Long.class, false).text(">")); createQueryBuilder(aQueryBuilder).orderBy("name").getQuery(); return aQueryBuilder.orderBy("name").getResultSet(); } } 1. Field of the Invention This invention relates to signal transmission systems, and more particularly to digital signal transmission systems. The invention further relates to improvement in the error rate in binary signal transmission systems, particularly systems employing digital-to-analog converters. 2. Description of the Prior Art In high fidelity sound reproduction, a sound signal to be reproduced is analogized and transmitted by carrier signals. The amplitude of the analog signal varies depending on the sound level, and is modulated by a sound signal which is converted from a sound signal by a digital-to-analog converter, or the like. The result of this modulated signal is reproduced as a sound signal. This system causes a problem that, during transmission of the modulated signal, an error in the wave form occurs due to a failure in the output of the digital-to-analog converter. This means that, for example, the amplitude of the modulated signal varies from its desired value during transmission, thereby deteriorating the quality of the sound reproduced. When the modulated signal to
