HELLO NEIGHBORS! We take social interaction extremely seriously, and we want you to know that we are here as your neighbors. Hello Neighbor is an interactive map that gathers the entirety of your local neighborhood. This application allows you to analyze public safety, understand local economic activity, and be informed of the people around you. This mobile application uses Google Maps API. ※ Privacy: All data used by Hello Neighbor is managed on an individual basis and does not affect other users. In addition, as the data is not saved on the application itself, access to such information cannot be limited to mobile devices in the future. ※ Q. What is JRP and why are you displaying it? JRP, which is pronounced "J-ah-R-P," is Japan's award-winning interactive map brand that allows people to enjoy map-making on their phones. ※ Q. What can you do with JRP? JRP provides a variety of applications and services, including: ① Mobile mapping applications such as JRP Map and JRP Navigator ② website map display applications such as JRP Galleria and JRP Map ③ services of the brand such as map production In these applications, JRP is using the free Google Maps API, and every time a developer signs in JRP, the user's location, the duration of his or her visit to the application, and other application-specific information is fed back to JRP. Q. Will you show all my private information? There is no need to be worried about the information you share with JRP. JRP collects your information on a voluntary basis, and uses this information for the aforementioned services and applications. ①For the JRP Map and JRP Navigator applications, we use your approximate location to place markers on the map. ②As you visit the JRP website, we store the information you provide to display the map. ③In the map production service, we collect your
