Orange Web Buttons License Key [Mac/Win]

Many Internet sites and online applications allow users to share their status and to interact with others. They also use a number of buttons to navigate and control a user's activities. In addition to social network buttons, the set includes navigation, back, search, and many other buttons. The buttons are painted in a unique orange color. It is easy to add these buttons into any site because the set comes with a standard XML structure. Besides the regular buttons such as Up and Down, Home, and Favourites, the icons come with additional actions such as Play, Save, Open, and Delete. Besides their color, the buttons vary in shapes and sizes. The largest buttons in the set have various nuances and dimensions. For example, the Save button is a white rectangle with an orange halo. The Up button has a curved border and a grey fill, while the Home button is square with a black halo. Orange Web Buttons License: The set of buttons is offered under a Creative Commons license. Anyone can use the buttons, but the name of the author must be provided in the manner explained on the website. Why Are Social Network Buttons So Popular? The reason is quite simple. Social network buttons have become the standard control elements in many communication and social networking Web applications. The buttons allow users to share their activities and status on the site. While there are many alternative navigation and control elements on the Web, the buttons offer the greatest functionality and customization. Orange Web Buttons is an ideal set of navigation buttons for social networks, for managing social communities, for marketplaces, and for communication sites. The buttons are also perfect for application Wizards, for tabbed search interfaces, for forum navigation bars, for e-mail menus, and for RSS navigation. Feel Free To Explore!
