The transcript of a meeting between Donald Trump Jr. and a Russian lawyer who offered damaging information about Hillary Clinton during the 2016 campaign has finally been published. The meeting was being described as a follow-up to a meeting between Russian operatives and Trump campaign officials at Trump Tower in June of 2016. None of the Trump campaign officials or anyone else at the meeting was aware that the Russian sources had claimed to have damning information on Clinton. The meeting was described to the media by Trump Jr. as a "lame pretext" meeting. The meeting was eventually described in the media by Trump Jr. as "vague" and "catch-all." On July 8, 2017, the meeting was publicized by conservative website the Daily Caller. After being shown the media reports about the meeting, the father of one of the attendees responded by saying, "No crime was committed here. How do you explain to your children... This is the important part. This is the part you don't want your children to know about. The crushing and embarrassing defeat of Hillary Clinton... It's disgraceful that the government of the United States would allow — that your father's administration would allow the American public to be so deceived. The father of one of the attendees of the meeting has now provided an explanation for why the meeting took place. "My father... went to this meeting as a supporter of the campaign," Eric Trump, a top Trump campaign aide, said, adding that the meeting was arranged by a "high-ranking member" of the Trump campaign.. or that he was not asked about. I think that's a fair statement." The admissibility of this testimony, like those all-to-familiar testimonial aspects of Leibovitz's testimony about the damaging effects of the subway *397 experiment, is highly questionable. [See n. 39, infra.] [32] Nor will the present record support that claim, as the jury was also fully informed that the choice was not between death by electrocution and death by gas. [33] See also United States v. Wade, 388 U. S. 218, 241 (1967). [34] Perhaps experience will reveal that some other course is available. [35] The entire text of the statute is printed in the Appendix to this opinion, post, p. 392. The genesis of the statute is recounted in 8 Cal. L. Rev. 99
