Write comment Video-Sharing websites can be a lot of fun, but many people have a hard time using them because they either find it difficult to use or their computer is not able to play these websites effectively. Using the VideoStudio remote control, users are able to play all major online video sharing websites directly on their computers. VideoStudio Remote Control allows users to play, rewind, pause, stop or even go directly to websites and download their movies easily from the comfort of their own computer. With the ability to play video files, image files and even web pages, VideoStudio Remote Control makes it easy for people to see their favourite movies and change their screen saver to their own choice of video file. VideoStudio Remote Control is easy to use and requires no prior computer expertise. In just a few steps, just start up the program, connect it to the TV's remote control and point it to a remote online website. The name of the websites are then displayed on the remote control and the user is ready to start playing movie files or browsing the Internet. The VideoStudio software offers on the one hand a public and free remote control and for the private user an encrypted remote control, the so-called "secret TV". These two solutions enable us to offer software to you. Our goal is an improved user friendliness and better connection to the site on the TV. This also will be available for the developers in the near future. Ulead VideoStudio 7SE download Ulead VideoStudio 7SE.
