- Hives: Build hives from the ground up. Each hive is different, from roof designs to depths of the hive, bees to the queen, you have the freedom to make any hive you want! - Swarms: Each hive can have a swarm of bees if they choose to. If a swarm finds a hive that it prefers, it may attempt to make a new hive there and then move in. - Milk: This is the process of harvesting the nectar from flowers to make honey. With the right equipment, you can harvest up to 16 units of honey at once. - Queen: You don't have to have a queen if you don't want to, but it is recommended. Queens are very important in bee keeping. - Favorites: As time goes on you will build special favorites hives that make it easy for you to pick up your favorite types of hives and swarms. You can also create your own favorites by combining different hives and swarms. - Honey: Bees collect nectar, typically from flowers, and add it to wax cells as honey. Sometimes they even eat it! - Bees: See the world through the eyes of an ant! - Other Species: Other species like bumblebees and wasps can be placed in hives, with the right care they can be cared for and eventually bred together and used in your queens and, in some cases, with your honey. - Crowd Control: Bees like to stay together. Hives should never have more bees than the number of the cells. Crowding damages bees and may even cause a hive to fail. - End Game: In the end game you will have to fill your delivery trucks with enough honey to make a profit. You are also able to buy a property that will allow you more space to grow your empire! If you like this game, you might also enjoy: - Impetus - The Lost Crown - Overgrowth - Hey! You It is best to start small and build your empire. Do not get your first hive until your funds are comfortable, and focus on building your delivery trucks and upgrading equipment. The latest installment in this beloved, unique psychological horror experience is the most fully implemented and difficult game of its kind yet, with more challenges than ever before. Based on actual events in the life of the game's creator, the dynamic story lets you experience the terrifying, chilling events in a unique way, requiring you to change your perception of reality. It only takes one mistake to take a young life forever, making it the ultimate cautionary tale for your ultimate survival. Read more: There is no doubt that "Gran Turismo 5" is one of the best racing games ever. Many things have improved in the latest edition. New cars, tracks and most importantly the racing feel is totally improved. The cockpit view is much more satisfying with some new features. You can now see while driving the camera and you can see all cars on the track in one single screen. You can also zoom out the view of the cars. This view allows you to actually see the entire group of cars in the group competition. Apart from these, there are lots of events which you can compete in. You can choose between racing, drift, drift, hill climb, time trial and drift sprint. It might not seem like a lot, but the game has updated graphics and improved so well that it feels like it's the next generation of racing games. On top of this, the graphics look really awesome as well. The detail is amazing and it is one of the best racing games I have played in my life. The tracks are breathtaking. Everything is made so that it looks so real. The idea of high quality and realism in gaming is really great. The game is a bit easy and might not be as challenging as the previous game. It is great to play for a while when you're bored but the game gets old pretty quickly. The difficulty is not very good too. In the end, this is an amazing game which really deserves a try. Recommended: Yes Read more: Been Gearing up? The arrow keys represent movement: up and down, left and right. The Y key represents rotation: left and right. The X key represents attack. The mouse represents movement and rotating. A graphic of a finger pointing toward a device indicates that this is a mouse control action. Once activated, selecting and actuating this graphic can be done in various manners: click to the right mouse button, double-click to the left mouse button, or press Enter to initiate. Additional controls The two buttons on the bottom left corner of the screen represent two additional controls that can be implemented: Shift the camera Shift the camera when you select the "player" graphic. Moving the camera follows the player. Shift + the mouse rotation graphic will rotate the camera accordingly. Sneak The camera will give away when you're moving. The game will then allow you to move sideways without being detected. These controls can be fully customised in the settings menu. Controls also apply to some if the game's movement options: The "Camera speed" controls the speed at which the camera moves; you can set it to fast, medium or slow. The "Camera rotate" controls how often the camera will rotate to follow the player; set it to fast or slow. The "Camera peek" controls how often the camera gives away your position; set it to fast or slow. Once you have entered the map, you'll find a slider that lets you control how visible the map is to other players; you can make the map visible to all players, to only your friends, or only to yourself. This game is all about keeping things simple. You have to be able to approach a problem from any angle. The moment you do that you can never go back, so having any tools that add complications are not welcome. That's what keeps things so simple. You can hold down the ESC key to quit the game if you wish. When this happens, your data is not lost, but the world is reset. It is a "save" in a sense, but nothing more than a save, since you will have to start the game all over again. The only way to prevent this is to quit the game during the loading process. This can be done by putting your device into Airplane Mode or into Silent Mode, then powering it back up when you're ready to restart. If you get an error for Vodge Bird ( Kevin Durant). Not so much Durant you are not a cat bite. Still...You will never be Durant. Remember the poison of personal character will always triumph over evil of character. John Wall burst into tears after battling father played in favor of teammate Fredette...Bulls in 6 I have decided to stay with the Celtics for the rest of the season. I will be a Celtic forever. Click to expand... I'm happy to hear it! People were getting a little bit worried there. I'm still 3 months down the road from a "retirement-like" recovery. It'll be fun to watch it evolve from here. Hoping on vs 12/4... 0 I have decided to stay with the Celtics for the rest of the season. I will be a Celtic forever. Im wondering if Vodge can shoot with any sort of consistency after a 7 month layoff. He has no leim in his shot (as VJ, as far as i can remember) Click to expand... What has he been shooting lately? Im with Drake, the 12-4 Line is a real problem line. If we can come up with a formula to get Danny what he wants in the 14-15th picks, we may be able to take the best player available. Maybe our guys can get Isaiah to play the 3. It seems that Zarvos treated this like an attempt to dis the team and honor/respect their players. to say that Vodge would not have anyone working him out would be a stretch. I think VJ is a great guy and felt bad.
