abstract: | The intermediate system of a refinement (or bisimulation) \mathcal{R} is the language defined by those configurations (s,t) of \mathcal{R} where $s \rightarrow a t$ holds for some $a \in \Sigma$. It is known that any bisimulation is represented by a left-maximal one, and that the intermediate system of a bisimulation is the syntactic fragment of its language. In this paper, we consider the case when \mathcal{R} is proper. For any bisimulation \mathcal{R} , the intermediate system of \mathcal{R} is equipped with an existential (first-order) logic proof system, in which both axioms and rules are strict. This language proof system is complete for the whole intermediate system and it can be viewed as an extension of that for language proof systems. In our proof system, the axioms are purely existentials (those of finite number), and the rules have the same modalities, but in this case, the occurrences of modalities are “explicit” as the
