The music in JAB! was hand-picked by Marcos Quest. Marcos's Picks: * Welcome To Hell by Slipknot * Walking Off a Bridge by Sonny Landreth * Drunk In Love by Beyonce * More Life by Drake And More * Use It or Lose It by Joan Jett & The Blackhearts * Dark Days by Kelly Clarkson The Full Story: The year is 2025. A new open source operating system, "Jab!" has been released. And its users have been JABBING (MAKING CREDIBLE HITS). Enthusiastic fan sites are "JAB'ing" up for the community. Jabbers are hitting the best new tracks and new releases with flying colors. All songs get top scores on the JAB Guide. But there is a dark side. The resource hungry MPAA has joined forces with the shadowy "JAB Mafia" to "BAN" and even "censor" the JAB guide and JABGuide.com. The MPAA are forcing Jabbers to download all of their music illegally and paying an arm and a leg for the privilege. It was a no brainer that Jabbers would revolt. So the Jab Mafia plan to take over all JAB guide pages. The entire guide is offline until we succeed. New dedicated servers will be set up as soon as possible. We have been working round the clock to bring the JAB Guide back online. And the plan is to kick the MPAA out of Jabberslife.com and make the JAB Guide 100% legal. But it wont be that easy. We have to outsmart the JAB Mafia. And we will. JAB Guide Features: - 100% legal downloads - 200+ "Jabbers" for every song - The JAB Guide is a "Living Document" - You can JAB on all devices - You can have unlimited access to JAB - Music Comes with a Bonus JAB Guide entry - JAB Guide Mobile App coming soon - Reviewed on the JAB Guide by "Jabbers" JAB Guide Community - We need your support. The Destiny is coming... Called Shototsuken, The Destiny is a role-playing game where you play as members of the powerful and prestigious Shototouken clan. With the destiny of the Shototouken clan weighing heavily on your shoulders, you must face the ultimate threat to the families' power—an evil with a strength that has no equal. What awaits you in your destiny? A blood-drenched family lineage? A path to power? Or a fate that will cause you to question everything you believed about your family, and the world? The Destiny promises deep, profound and unforgettable experiences for any and all of those who seek The Destiny. Artwork and Concept: The Destiny is developed by Shovelware Studios, Inc., a group of Japanese indie game developers. The game features a rich story, sprawling world, and lots of challenging content. The development process for The Destiny started over 8 years ago. The development took lots of time and effort, but we are confident that the end product will not disappoint anyone. The Destiny has an elegant, sophisticated visual style that reflects Japan's technological and cultural evolution since the Meiji era. And at the same time, it has a modern look, with a bright color palette and high-definition graphics. Though The Destiny is technically a highly story-driven game, we wanted to make it more accessible and easier to handle than traditional Japanese role-playing games. The game features fast-paced turn-based combat with action-oriented mechanics, and the battle system is very simple and easy to use. In this game, you can do a great many things, from exploration and item gathering to fighting monsters, investigating a variety of mysteries, and more. Just like what it implies, the story line, characters, world, and other aspects are all very interesting and detailed. World Design: The Destiny takes place in the post-apocalyptic universe of Altair, in a parallel dimension of the Earth. Altair is a modernized society with a moderate tech level, where people use advanced weaponry to fight monsters. The futuristic technology places a great emphasis on personal freedom and discovery, and such a society is well suited for people who love to explore and seek things out. The Destiny is a game where the emphasis is on challenging, and learning skills are encouraged. The story line is very profound and c9d1549cdd

Inspired by the text of Herodotus' works, the scenarios in Herodotus the Great reflect his own observations and are based on the latest advances in the field of ancient historiography. In the same manner as Herodotus, you are not forced to use your knowledge of history. The Age of Civilizations is a turn-based strategy game. Developed by Conflict and Cooperation studio, The Age of Civilizations is a game where you can look at the world as an impartial politician and make decisions that would change the course of world history. The central theme of the game is the struggle between the three major civilization groups: The Romans, the Greeks and the Chinese. The Romans, under the leadership of Caesar Augustus, colonized Europe and, in order to strengthen their hold on it, they made agreements with local chieftains. The Greek city states, led by a tyrant named Ptolemy II, started sending their fleets towards China in order to plunder its treasures and trade goods, and for the first time ever, they came in contact with the Chinese. During the 1st and 2nd century CE, the ancient Chinese civilization grew and developed into one of the most extensive, powerful and complex political, social, economic and military structures in the world. This power came with a cost, however, as the Chinese civilization experienced decline, and they lost much of their economic might, partly because they

What's new in Aztecs The Last Sun:

#1 Crowfall is in Early Access, for those who need to know, and has been free for a few months now. Like many games, its multiplayer funding model has gone through a number of iterations. Starting with a browser-based team deathmatch PvP game which became a pay-to-win social PvP game (like Overlord 2's) and ended up as this. Currently, they're moving to a full-on online-only Pay-to-win game that is free to play, but you can tip them generously if you want to help them fix some of their inherent problems and get it to be the amazing MMO it could be. One of the worst issues and one which runs through almost all of their feedback seems to be servers getting too slow to run. I've actually talked about this more than once on GameWisp, on The Hostage podcast and in game. They get more and more ganked - or repeatedly key captured - the more excessive the server-side load. I've found that the A.I. can also do things like move their load from parkour to hanging on a swing or falling through the roof right before firing off a well-placed rocket. It really is a bit of a mess, and last night, Cloud Imperium held a show of support for the servers by reviving the servers for 24 hours yesterday. The 24 hour free-play will only speed up the free-to-play, Pay-to-win structure. They changed it slightly so that if there was an empty server your game would now end even if you were ahead in score. Once you've locked in the points (if/when you can), you're now on whatever server you want. Right now, you have three ways to go about getting things in Crowfall: Play for free for 24 hours Buy access to pay-to-win servers or various cosmetic items Improve your character stats and unlock better gear by playing on pay-to-win servers Currently, they've mostly kept the free-to-play items behind tiers so that new players can't buy them right away and they've also removed the ability to move your free-to-play items into pay-to-win servers. Everything is locked for the first 24 hours after purchase and you need to purchase or spend your unspent in-game currency to move your items into the

After the events of the Alien invasion, all that remains of humanity is a scattered few trying to survive in a world overrun by the alien invaders and in the aftermath of the events a newly formed United Nations has formed to deal with the dangers that face them and to deal with the issues of finding a new home for humanity. While the UN is trying to establish a system of government and repair the peace, a terrorist cell based in the capital of russia attempts to establish a new order in the world by killing every living human on the planet, but the UN will stop at nothing to eradicate this threat and to restore the planet to it's former glory. As part of the UN expedition you will travel to many different places across the globe where you must defeat the enemy and find survivors while uncovering the mysteries of the world and what exactly happened during the invasion

Created by LizardGames Designed by Emeric Engel Designer Adam Walsh Lead Gameplay Programmer Adam Walsh Creative Director Shawn Johnston The Aftermath: Unnatural Selection is due for release on Steam sometime late Q2/early Q3. I have applied to be a part of the Steam Greenlight community. I'm seeking the support of the Greenlight community to see if the project I'm working on will be accepted to the next Greenlight platform. Below you can find a video of a trailer that is a sample of the content I'm creating. Visit the Greenlight website at: LizardGames also has this to say about the game: About the Aftermath:Unnatural Selection The Aftermath: Unnatural Selection is a story driven Survival/RPG game set years after human civilization has been decimated by an Alien invasion. In the aftermath of the invasion survivors fled to live in caves after it was discovered our invaders had left behind creatures from all over the galaxy to roam free on earth. You the protagonist are separated from your hunting party after you were ambushed by mutants, now you must survive in this harsh world of mutants and destruction finding other outreaches of humanity and unlocking the mysteries along the way.
