Patr. . 3,19 k.Q: How do I add a video to a Storyboard and read the file path of the video resource? I have a a video from the resources folder in my project. I would like to use that video in my storyboard, and once the video starts I want to get it's file path so I can use that file path in my code. A: Assuming you have a string like "file://path/to/file.mp4" // your path variable may be an NSString* or NSURL* NSURL* videoURL = [NSURL fileURLWithPath:[path stringByReplacingPercentEscapesUsingEncoding:NSUTF8StringEncoding]]; You can then play it with something like this: AVPlayerItem* playerItem = [AVPlayerItem playerItemWithURL:videoURL]; AVPlayer* player = [AVPlayer playerWithPlayerItem:playerItem]; AVPlayerLayer* playerLayer = [AVPlayerLayer playerLayerWithPlayer:player]; [[self view] layer] addSublayer:playerLayer]; In your viewDidLoad: player = [AVPlayer playerWithURL:videoURL]; [player prepareToPlay]; [[NSNotificationCenter defaultCenter] addObserver:self selector:@selector(pauseVideo:) name:AVPlayerItemDidPlayToEndTimeNotification object:playerItem]; [[NSNotificationCenter defaultCenter] addObserver:self selector:@selector(playVideo:) name:AVPlayerItemDidPlayToEndTimeNotification object:playerItem]; And of course (in the pauseVideo: and playVideo: method) remove the observer so that it stops playing. You could do all this using Key-Value Observing to control the state of the player, but I'm trying to avoid it in this case. package com.recycler.core.internal.react.use; import android.support.v7.widget.RecyclerView; c6a93da74d
